Extending the Winemaker's Art:

VINWOOD designer furniture is masterfully handcrafted from selected solid oak staves steeped in wines of distinction and matured over time.

The true art of winemaking begins more than 100 years before the first grape is harvested from the vineyard.

It is on native French and American slopes that oak saplings, destined to cradle and culture future vintages, are nurtured for a century.

The fully matured oak is then hand split and entrusted to nature for curing, after which it is made into wine casks in the Cooper's age-old tradition.

Master Winemakers then select the barrels that best complement the character and style of their connoisseur wines.

VINWOOD extends the life of this heritage oak into fine furniture, preserving its unique personality through carefully crafted classic and contemporary designs that will live on, generation after generation.

The Vinwood Reserve Range

consists of a limited number of pieces made from rare and exceptional wine casks – each piece becoming a collector's item once all the available casks have been used. The staves used for the Reserve Range are retrieved from 12 kilolitre barrels originally from the Cathedral Cellar at KWV in Paarl. These enormous casks were introduced to the cellar in 1930, having been imported from Nancy, France. The French cooper marked each stave individually before disassembling and shipping them to South Africa. These assembly numbers can be seen along the edges of the Syrah Reserve table top. The red stains on the legs of the Reserve chairs are the result of the ports and red wines matured in the barrels. are the result of the ports and red wines matured in the barrels.

All staining is charged @ 4% of the value of the item.
